Carlos Henrique Wanderly of Brazil is 1982 International Senior Champion.

Fifty three skippers from Argentina, Brazil, and the U.S. participated at the 1982 Senior Penguin International Championships which were sailed at the Yacht Club Paulista, Sao Paulo Brazil.

Six races were held over a five day period. The fourth and fifth races had to be delayed because of the 30 knot plus breezes.

The first race was cancelled to the afternoon because of a squall. After lunch the racing got under way with Carlos Henrique Wanderly and his crew, Thomas Scheidt winning the first race and getting off to a good start in the International Championships. He was closely followed by Luiz Blas in 2nd and Mauro Osorio in third.

The second race, sailed in light and shifty winds was won by Marcelo Fuchs of Sao Paulo. Second and third went to Carlos Wanderly and Mario Garcia, respectively.

Very shifty air for the third race saw Carlos Wanderly repeat with another first place. Luiz Paulo Gonzales was second with Fernando Pauluici Junior, taking third

Fernando Hackerott who had been finishing consistently near the top in the early races won the fourth race which was sailed in light air out of the south.

Wanderly was second following by Mauro Osorio. As it was during the entire regatta, the championship was still up for grabs.

Werner Hennig won the fifth race to become the fourth different skipper to win a race. Marcelo Fuchs and the new Jr. International Champion finished second and third in the stronger but still shifty winds.

The final and last race was sailed in light and extremely variable winds out of the south. Luiz Antonio Evangelista became the fifth skipper to win a race. He was closely followed by Marcio Chebar who finished 4th overall and third place was the Senior runner-up Fernando R. Hackerott.

Carlos Wanderly and his crew became the new Senior International Penguin Champions with their outstanding sailing. They had two firsts, a second and two sevenths. Close behind with a first, third, fourth, sixth and eighth was Hackerott and his crew Ricardo Barbara. One plus points behind in third place Wanderly and crew Helmut Fladt.

In fourth place was Marcio Chebar with fifth going to Marcelo Fuchs. All of the top skippers in the regatta were from Brazil.
